

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. CHRIS. VON SEGGERN desires us to say he is not a candidate for Probate Judge.

The Board of Surgeons are examining pensioners to-day at the United States Pension Office, corner of Vine and Seventh streets.

The Women's Centennial Executive Committee will hold an important meeting on Monday morning at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Sixth-street railroad track is completed from Central avenue to Mound street, and the squares between Central avenue and Elm are ready for the iron. The cars will be running in a few days.

The purchase of 330 porches of the best building stone was ordered to be made in the meeting of the Water-works Board yesterday afternoon, the stone to be used in aqueducts for the purpose of receiving four forty-inch valves.

LATE yesterday afternoon a man about forty years old hired a horse and buggy from Wm. S. Ayres, southwest corner of John and Everett streets, and since that time nothing has been heard of the man or of the horse and buggy. It is supposed that the man has departed with them for unknown regions.

The residents of Mt. Airy recently presented a petition to the County Commissioners, asking the improvement of a road in that vicinity. The matter was referred to County Solicitor Goss, who to-day gave his opinion that, as Mt. Airy was an incorporated village, it was obliged to improve its own roads.

The Directors of the City Water-works Board yesterday afternoon, presenting an account of $10,000 for the laying of water pipes from Brighton to the Work-house, with credits at various times amounting to $2,500, leaving a balance of $7,500. It was directed that the accounts of water rents along that line of pipe be examined.

MR. H. ACOSTA KRESKEN, and a few other indignants, held a meeting at Turner Hall last evening, and adopted resolutions deprecating what they termed "the attack of Rev. Schenck on the foreign-born citizens of this country," and asking the Exposition Commissioners to, in future, allow no clergyman to orate at the opening of the Exposition.

PROF. L. LAWRENCE SMITH, President of the Louisville (Ky.) Gas-works; Thos. L. Barrett, Vice President of the Louisville Gas-works; and President of the Bank of Kentucky, and Captain W. C. Hite, of the Cincinnati and Louisville Mail Line Company, representing the Louisville Gas-works, have arrived in the city, to confer with the officers of the Cincinnati Gas Company regarding mutual interests.

The residents of Mt. Auburn yesterday afternoon petitioned the Board of Water-works to consider their pressing complaint as to the scanty supply of water in Mt. Auburn. The petition states that for weeks past there has frequently been no water at all, and at other times a totally insufficient supply, and asks for an increase in the capacity of the Mt. Auburn reservoir. The matter was laid over till the next meeting.

The Lady Teachers.

The Lady Teachers' Association will meet at the Normal School Hall next Saturday morning, September 18, 1875, at 10 o'clock.

The citizens of the Eighth ward met at Hopkins Hall last night and organized a Hayes and Young Club. John Ritt was chosen temporary President, and Joseph Malins temporary Secretary. Committees on Permanent Organization and Hall were appointed.

Base-Ball.

A fair audience assembled on the new Cincinnati grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the game between the Reds and the Ludlows. The game was one of the most brilliant of the season, only two errors, one by Finer and the other by Sam Fields, being charged to the Reds during the game. Sweaty played admirably at second. The Ludlows batted heavily, but their fielding was bad. The score was as follows:

Innings..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Umpire, Outburt, of the St. Louis Brown Stockings.

The St. Louis Brown Stockings will play the Ludlows at Ludlow Park this afternoon.

A special train will leave the Plum-street depot at half-past two this afternoon, conveying passengers to the Blue Stocking grounds to witness the game between that club and the Covington Stars.

The Reds and the St. Louis Brown Stockings play a game to-morrow afternoon at the new grounds. A close and exciting game is expected.

Amusements.

THE GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—The highly emotional play of "East Lynne" was rendered by Miss Gray and the powerful stock company at the Grand last evening to a crowded house. The acting of Miss Gray was very forcible, winning for her several well-deserved encores. The support was as able as any star could wish, proving how fallacious was the old idea that one star and twenty sticks was all that was needed to play a play. Miss Gray was a beautiful sight in all that she wore. A beautiful sight in all that she wore.

In the popular play "Love's Sacrifice," Monday evening the ever popular Voice Family begin an engagement at this house.

WOOD'S THEATER.—Mr. Oliver Doud Byron appeared to a good audience last evening at the "Ferret," in "Across the Continent." It was in this play that Mr. Byron first won his popularity, and though it has run now for several years, like "Rip Van Winkle" and "Our American Cousin," it grows none the less popular. Haverly's Troupe of popular Minstrels, including that prince of good fellows, M. J. Barlow, begins a brief engagement at this house next week.

THE NATIONAL.—The performance at the National last evening was very good, the audience testifying their appreciation by frequent applause. An attractive programme is offered for to-night.

DAN RICE.—The Colonel exhibited his trained horses to a highly delighted audience last evening, who were especially loud in their praise of Excellence.

THE HIBERNICAN.—The Hibernian and the Morris Comedy Company gave a delightful entertainment at Mozart Hall last evening, the songs of Erin seeming to give especial pleasure to the majority of the audience. Mr. MacEvoy, as usual, presents a splendid entertainment.

Court Cuttings.

The L. C. & L. R. R. yesterday filed a petition seeking to enjoin the levy of an execution by W. G. Osborne and E. H. McElfresh, a magistrate in Whitewater township, the defendants, on the ground that the present plaintiff had not been served with notice, and that M. E. Ingalls, and not the plaintiff, was the real defendant. Temporary injunction granted and bond fixed at $120.

Great Men Not Always Great in Congress.

We take issue at once with the assertion, so common in England, and becoming so general here, that the practical value of business is that required for legislation. This mere business men in Congress are not the most successful as legislators. They seldom give their attention to general thoughts. Even a great lawyer or scientific manufacturer of paper or of the editor of a journal—notably such men have seldom impressed themselves directly on debates and legislation.

It is complained that the greatest men in America are ostracized from public life, and that our second-rate men fill third-rate places. The complaint is untrue. Horace Mann on a school board was greatly in Congress he was as much a babe in the woods as Horace Greeley of his trip to Vanderbilts or Beecher would be lost in Congress. All ex parte men, preachers especially, are unfitted for the forum of open debate. It is the full rounded development of all the faculties, including that of humor, which is the secret spring to political success, and the test of our greatest men.

Had Horace Mann, Horace Greeley, and Henry J. Raymond used half the fun-power which they possessed, as General Schenck, General Nye, or John P. Hale did theirs, their legislative career would not be overshadowed by their renown in other spheres. Francis Jeffrey was a great reviewer, Macaulay a great historian, and Bulwer a splendid genius, but their parliamentary fame is as dust in the balance against their literary glories. It is not mere abstract knowledge of human society or of political economy that makes Senatorial fame. Pistol hit the mark on Palestine. The latter was Chancellor of the Exchequer. Said the fat knight, arguing for his budget:

"My honest lads, I will tell you what I am about."

"Two yards or more," shrieked Pistol.

"No quips now, Pistol. I am about thrill."

But he shook his sides with Pistol on the run, and went to work on the budget—or the highway. This was statesmanship.

General Schenck, after two months' debate in 1870-71 when the tariff bill had been torn to shreds by close contests, then by item, turned his missiles of sarcasm upon all his contestants. He passed his own bill as a substitute, and received all the credit for the reform. How did he make the turn?

"My bill, Mr. Speaker, has been nibbled to death by pismires and kicked to death by grasshoppers."

In the next paper I shall consider the collective humor of legislators, as distinguished from the individual humor of members.—The Hon. S. S. Cox, in Harper's Magazine for October.

A movement has been started to complete Mr. Moody's church in Chicago, Ill., which, since he went abroad, has remained as he left it—roofed over the basement. The walls are now going up.
